

PMEX Offers a Full Suite of Trading Services Under MT5

We are pleased to inform all market participants that with effect from Monday, October 26, 2020, as part of its technology infrastructure upgradation initiative, the Exchange will switch its entire trading system to Meta Trader 5 (MT5), a globally acclaimed multi-functional trading platform. The aim of this upgradation is to provide market participants with an enhanced trading experience that is at par with global standards. Hence, the Exchange will permanently discontinue the NEXT terminal & E-Books. This enhancement will bring the Front-end trading terminal along with Back-Office system onto a single technological platform of MT5.

Following are the links to access the trading services under MT5 platform:

In order to avoid any inconvenience, all brokers are strongly advised to ensure at the earliest, all their clients' MT5 accounts are enabled and the clients are aware of its functionalities.

Please note that the Exchange will further notify about any changes/features as and when they are introduced.

The detailed instructions for brokers and their clients' readiness will be communicated shortly.
